

The Faculty Senate will meet Tuesday, December 2, for two hours. Here's a brief summary of what happened.

--Joe Kelly (English) was elected to fill a vacant At-Large Senate seat.

--Lauren Collier (Service Learning Coordinator, Office of Student Affairs) sought feedback from the Senate. Her office would like to identify courses with a service-learning component so that when students register for them, they will know from the section number that the course has a service-learning component. The Senate directed Academic Planning to investigate service learning and make a recommendation about how to identify such courses for students.

--The Committee on Academic Planning introduced the memo that was provided to the Senate on the Committee's work on First-Year Seminars. This report is also posted on the Senate website. No vote was taken; the Committee hopes to bring a proposal for a vote soon.

--Academic Standards proposed an addition to the Undergraduate Catalog. This proposal was remanded to the Committee with the directive that they consult with all departments in the Division of Languages.

--All proposals from the Graduate Committee passed.

--All proposals from the Curriculum Committee passed except one, the proposal for TNIP 101 (a non-credit internship).

N. B. The next Senate meeting will be 20 January. Please note that the agenda deadline for this meeting occurs before classes begin.
